

Sudden Custody Death Syndrome Learning Objectives

1.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify the term psychosis.

1.2 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify the "labels" associated with psychosis. Downs v. United States

1.3 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify what causes psychosis

1.4 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify behavior exhibited by an individual suffering from a psychotic episode.

2.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify hyperthermia and its symptoms.

2.2 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify drugs other than cocaine thought to be responsible for excited delirium.

3.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to define positional asphyxia.

3.2 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will demonstrate an understanding of the relationship between restraint and positional asphyxia.

3.3 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will identify the causes of restraint-related positional asphyxia.

3.4 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will recognize the serious dangers of employing a forceful-prone-restraint.

3.5 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will recognize the situations that indicate suspects or prisoners who are "at risk" for positional asphyxia.

3.6 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will recognize the effectiveness of alternative techniques for restraining violent individuals.

4.1 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to recognize and implement the approaches to safely restrain the suspected cocaine psychosis or excited delirium subject.

4.2 LEARNING OBJECTIVE: The student will be able to identify the methods in which to reduce civil and criminal liability with regards to sudden custody deaths.